that an election for Directors

Twenty Dollars Reward.
AN AWAY from the subscriber on or about the first of September last, a mu-girl named Sally, about fifteen or six-years of age, long bushy hair, rather visage, clothing not recollected, for-ly the property of Mr. John M. Ivor of place. Whoever will apprehend said and deliver her to me, or give inforto Mr. H. Claggett, at the Washing-tavern, so I get her, shall receive the reward. JOHN L. ALFORD.
December 4

Twenty Dollars Reward.
AN AWAY from the 27th of November last, a bright Mulatto Man, named MASON, about 20 years old, 5 feet 10 inches high, has a small scar on one of his temples, and a very uncommon thick per lip, which is so remarkable that he is easily known by it. He had on a green cloth coat, with a large cape, a fur hat half worn. I thought of Mr. Charles I. Love, who lives near Alexandria, and who has his mother and relations, where no doubt he has been since he went off, and I expect makes Alexandria his chief place of abode, as he is head of the town, and has a very large acquaintance in it. I have heard that he was seen there about two weeks ago, walking the day time without any caution nearly opposite the poor house. I will give the reward for the delivery of said boy to 3 miles from the 27 mile stone, on the River Turnpike road, or twelve dol-ars for lodging him in any jail so that I get him again. All persons are cautioned from harboring or carrying said fellow off, as the law will be enforced in either case.

Constables Look Out.
HUNDRED DOLLARS REWARD.
AN AWAY from the subscriber, living near the Falls Church, Fairfax county, Virginia, on the 10th inst, a negro man named Henry Tussen, about 23 or 24 years age, a thick, well set fellow, about 5 feet 9 inches high, very black, full face, a large mouth and thick lips: he has lost a front tooth from his upper jaw, and is somewhat lame in his right leg. He had on a short grey cloth coat, black cloth breeches, worn, an old drab cloth vest coat, and an old fur hat, with a black scarf around it. He is a good cook, and is fond of being in a kitchen. He is a smart, nimble fellow, and may change his clothes.
He formerly belonged to Richard Washington, deceased, and was his waiter. He has mother and other relations living at Mr.
John Washington's, Jefferson county, Va., and also at Mount Vernon, and in Alexandria. In all probability he may be endeavoring to get to some of the northern states.
If said fellow is taken and secured in jail, so that I get him again, 100 miles from home, I will give 100 dollars, if 50 miles, 50 dollars, and if 25 miles, or any shorter distance, 30 dollars.

lowed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two week ago, by a man of the name of Bassett. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

ied by critical and explanatory remarks. Its value is also enhanced by occasional reviews of literary works; and all its sentiments are decidedly American, independent of all party considerations. For this work, which is well established, regularly published, and transmitted weekly to subscribers by the mail, the public patronage is respectfully solicited.

that, by the operations of this office, the community will get rid of a host of shillies, infest the District, frequently proclaiming the failure of country solvent banks, for the express purpose of purchasing the notes of such institutions at great discounts.—Busi-acted. This establishment possesses funds to negotiate for any amount, and all busi-

THE LEMON LEAF.

To Miss M. S.
Thank you for the lemon leaf, Favorite in the muse's wreath;
'Twas call'd where friendship's breeze blow—
The hand that gave it told me so.

Though the forests so lately embosom'd in green,
Have hidden their leaves in the furrow,
And altho' not a warbler is now to be seen,
And the rabbit sleeps sound in her burrow; Tho' the squirrel be hid 'neath the hickory nuts
Which he gleas'd in the warmth of September.
And the wood-cutters rest in their straw-cover'd huts—
Yet the lemon leaf lives in December.

Not like yon weeping willow's bough,
To every breeze that's bending low,
That moans and sighs and pines away,
And seeks a premature decay;
But, like the lemon leaf, be ours To meet alike the wintry hours,
And still retain the smile that glow'd, When summer's genial currents flow'd.

May Hope's bright star, with ambient ray, Still cheer life's darkness dreary way,
And Patience, with her placid smile,
The heavy hours of woe beguile, Pointing to fairer realms than this,
Where nought is known but love and bliss.

The summer rose has died away—
The summer pink has known decay—But Margaret's leaf retains its grace, Though age the bloom of youth efface.

A PARODY.

SURE wont you hear what roaring cheer, Was spread on the eve of Christmas O;
How gay and light, they spent the night, So frolicsome and frisky O!
First, eggs in hand, came waiter Joe,
With milk, spirits and sugar so neatly O; While Fuzbox, with his merry bow, Struck up a lilt so gaily O.

So as soon as Mr. Peter Quiz heard that there was to be a bowl of eggnog upon the table, he went directly to Mr. Fuzbox and told him of the whole affair, who thrust his left arm up the chimney, and pulled down his fiddle, and rosin'd his bow, and struck up a little bit of a tidrei, and tidrei, and tid-re-id-re-i-de-o.

Now there was Quiz, with his ugly pliz;
With Orlando, and Furioso; And Ariosto; with some more that I know: Whose names I will leave blank, — just so.

By the powers, but it would have done your hearts and souls good to have seen the jovial fellows stepping two by two, in couples, one after another, up to the flying bowl; and Fuzbox, as soon as he had taken a swig and smacked his lips, kept on with his neat little tune of tidrei, &c.

When Joe was asked if the eggs would last,
As the bowl was getting quite empty O,
To be sure, says Joe, you may so,
To the end of the night, and after O: Then, tenderly, the bowl he takes,
To fill it up so neatly O; While Fuzbox, with his merry scrapes, Struck up a lilt so sweetly O.

When the ceremony of making the delicious beverage was over, and the smiling bowl was again placed upon the table, to be sure Fuzbox didn't take it up, and gave it such a suck, that when he took his lips away you might have heard it all over the house; while the rest of the company seeing so neat an example before them, all seconded the motion; when Fuzbox again took up his seat in the corner, and struck up his little bit of a tidrei, &c.

Then a roaring set at supper were met, So frolicsome and so frisky O; Oysters galore—three bushels, or more;
But none of your dirty whiskey O.
Beef steaks besides, with coffee hot,
With pickle, toast and butter O,
With hominy right from the pot,— Faith 'twas a royal supper O.

For Joe, d'y'see, was resolved to do the thing in a genteel way, so he brought in three large bowls of oysters, and a dish full of sausages, and, by the powers, but their jaws didn't go faster than a broker's horse, or the elbow of Fuzbox, who, as soon as he had lined his waistcoat pretty well, kept up his charming little tune of tidrei, &c.

Throughout the night, O what delight,
To see them drinking and smoking O;

An opera ball was nothing at all, Compared to the fun of their joking O.
And then to see the sweet rappers, From snuff-box fine come neatly O; While Fuzbox, brisk as any bee, Kept up a lilt so sweetly O.

Now, do you see, by this time they all agreed to proceed homewards, as most of their skins held as much as they could contain; so Joe lit them to the door, and they all went out singing the favorite tune of tidrei, and tidrei, and tid-re-id-re-i-de-o.

Mr. Snowden, I have again done myself the pleasure of paying a visit to your town, which I am very fond of doing when oysters and white-backs abound,—and if I possibly can, will call and pay you my subscription, as hard as the times are.—In the mean while accept of my compliments of the season, and wish you and your patrons a merry Christmas, and a happy New Year, be the times as they may. But, at the same time, let me ask why the people are so universally crying out, "hard times! hard times! no money—can't get any money—the banks are all curtailing—can't get money enough to go to market."—What is the reason of it?
Is it not owing to the banks themselves?
The cause they assign, I am told, is in consequence of the brokers harassing them so much.—If that is the case, would it not be better, not only for the banks, but individuals, if all the banks of the district would come to a friendly understanding with the neighbouring banks of Virginia and Maryland, particularly such banks as are ultimately safe, and receive their paper as it is offered; and have a mutual interchange among themselves, without giving employ-to a parcel of brokers, who neither respect nor love any of them further than their own interest? From the number of banks in the district, I should suppose there were officers enough employed to keep up a constant communication with all the banks between Maine and Georgia, with the aid of those intervening, and by that means would lessen the frequent calls upon them from individuals, and so curtail the business of the brokers that they would no longer find it an object worth pursuing.

I was surprised to hear of the paper of so respectable and solvent a bank as the branch bank at Fredericksburg has always been considered to be, should be selling in the district, not forty miles from home, at a discount of 4 per cent. for the want of some bank in the place to receive it; and I have no doubt, but that not only that bank, but the Hagerstown bank, the bank of the Valley and its branches, when called on, would redeem their paper with as good funds as any bank in the district would require; and I believe that it is in consequence of this state of things that those brokers get employ, to the great disadvantage of the regular fair traders. I happened in a bank a few days since, when three or four of these creatures came in, nearly at the same time, and I was diverted at the anxiety they showed, fearing, I thought, that they would not all get satisfied.—There were different sizes and ages among them: one, whose ancient spectacles, and pale, which was smooth as a queen Ann shilling, induced me to think that he had better been at home poring over his Bible and Prayer book, than to be there so intent upon exchanging and counting one dollar ragged notes; and among the younger fry, I observed one whose loquacity seemed to know no bounds—no secrecy was observed by him, but let out his whole errand without reserve.—Thinks I to myself, thinks I, this is one of the beings that I have heard of, that would let its guts out if nature had not been kind enough to have fastened them to its ribs.—On viewing them as they were, they reminded me of a parcel of pigs pes-tering a gilded horse in August. Whether the banks are disposed to encourage and continue such a system of business, I know not; but if they are, I think we may, with due deference, compare them with the hogs that cut their own throats while they are swimming for their lives.* I trust to Providence to send us happier times the next year, both in town and country.

A FRIEND TO THE COMMUNITY.

*It is a fact, a hog will swim till it cuts its throat.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON
Christmas Day, 1818.

Exactly as I foreboded in my last letter, the bill for the relief of J. J. Dufour and his associates was yesterday taken up in the house of representatives. When the question that it should pass was about to be put, Mr. Strother first, and then Mr. Storrs, renewed their opposition to it, and were answered by Mr. Poindexter, Mr. Hendrix, and Gen. Harrison. The question was taken by ayes and noes, and the votes appeared to be balanced, there being 65 for and 65 against the bill's passing. The speaker was then about to decide the matter by his voice, which there is reason to believe would have been in favor of the objects of the bill; but at that instant Mr.
Slocum rose, and observing that his name had not been called, or at least that he had not heard it, desired that his vote should be enumerated against the passing of the bill.

The speaker declared that he had heard the honorable gentleman's name called.— The house, however, agreed to take his vote, so that the bill was lost by a majority of one vote only—66 to 65.

Some resolutions of value were adopted by the house, among which I reckon the following:

A resolution introduced by Mr. Pleasant to purchase timber, particularly live oak, for building twenty sloops or other small vessels of war.

Another to appoint agents in the several counties to receive the taxes due on lands sold for the non-payment of taxes.

Another to make it the duty of the agents employed by the United States to transact business with the Indian tribes, to obtain all the information they can relative to their population, manners, customs, history and languages, or any thing peculiar to said tribes, and to report the same annually to the secretary of war.

Another calling on the president of the United States for a copy of any correspondence that may have passed between the department of war and the governor of Georgia, in consequence of the letter of the former of the 1st of June, and between the said department and general Jackson, in consequence of the letter of the former of the 7th of May.

And last, and though last not least in value, a joint resolution of both houses to have the points of cape Hatteras, cape Lookout, and cape Fear, and the shoals thereof, surveyed, in order to ascertain the practicability of erecting light-houses, beacons or buoys, upon them, near their extreme points, and to have the latitude and longitude of those extreme points ascertained, and reported to congress.

Gov. McMin, of Tennessee, has failed to make a treaty with the Cherokee Indians.
After eating and drinking at the council board, which they were willing to do for the whole winter, says the Nashville Clarion, they insultingly proposed to address the governor through the squaws. The census provided for by the treaty of 1817, they will not, it is believed, allow to be taken.
[Washington City Gazette.

The treaty which we this day publish, by authority, is that which was concluded at Madrid, in 1802, but the ratification of which, by Spain, has been withheld until recently.

This treaty, it will be seen, provides for the settlement, by the arbitration of commissioners, and in the most unexceptionable manner, of all claims, prior to the year 1802, of the citizens of Spain and of the U.
States, respectively, for losses sustained by the depredations of citizens of the two governments, prior to the year 1802.

The claims for spoils by French privateers carrying their prizes into the ports of Spain, during the same period, and which have been ever since the subject of negociation, are not provided for. They are, however, expressly reserved, and the existence of the claims thus distinctly recognized.
[National Intelligencer.

PUBLIC LANDS.

By a report from the land office, in pursuance of a resolution of the house of representatives, it appears that the amount due to the United States for purchases of the public lands north-west of the river Ohio, is $7,293,489. The lands sold prior to the year 1812, have been paid for, or have reverted to the United States, because the period of original credit, and the extension of time for payment, (three years) have expired. The whole amount of sales during the intermediate period have been 14,447,675; and there have been received, by the United States, 8,615,055 dollars. [Ibid.

Towanda, Bradford Co. (Penn.) Dec. 12.
HUNTING.

On Friday, the 4th inst. about 700 men of the neighboring townships, formed a hunting party. The signal for proceeding was given on French-town mountain, which was answered by all the horns of the hunters, comprising a circuit of 40 miles in the space of 15 minutes. The hunters then progressed towards a centre in Wysox township; shooting and driving the game before them, until the circle became too small to use guns with safety; the animals were then attacked with bayonets fixed on poles, clubs, pitchforks, &c. with such success that nearly 300 deer, 5 bears, 9 wolves, and 11 foxes were killed. It was calculated that 600 deer, 10 bears, and 20 wolves escaped, together with a great number of smaller animals. The expedition was attended with many circumstances highly interesting to hunters, and closed as usual with great mirth.

CANCERS.

The editor of the Patriot avails himself of the earliest moment to give publicity to the following letter, believing it will be highly useful, and joins in the wish of his correspondent that it may be every where copied by brethren of the type.

York County, Penn. Oct. 25, 1818.
DEAR SIR—An insertion of the following in your valuable paper will oblige me, and perhaps, confer an important benefit upon some of our unfortunate fellow beings.—About two months ago, observing in the Baltimore Patriot an extract from the West Jersey Gazette, giving (in the person of James Lewis) "another evidence of Papi-rism in curing cancers," I was induced to preserve it for a future period. It happened at this time that the wife of a neighbor was afflicted with this painful and alarming disorder, under which she had suffered for a considerable time.—The breast (the part affected) had been amputated and had perfectly healed, but in a few months exhibited every symptom of a return. Several tumours appeared, and daily enlarged.

Her physician, an eminent practitioner, advised a second use of the knife, but her friends dissuaded her from the operation, believing it would be undergoing severe pain without the smallest hopes of relief.
Her situation occurred to me, but considering all human application useless in so advanced a stage of the disease, I neglected mentioning it to her friends, but spoke of it to another, who informed them of it.— The herb, being near at hand, was immediately procured, and used as directed, and I rejoice to add, that the tumours have been completely removed—her general health much improved, and there is every prospect of her recovery. I have sent this for publication, without waiting her perfect restoration, that others may avail themselves of the same means as early as possible. The plant is an evergreen, and sometimes wintergreen; the mode of using it is simply to drink of the tea, and wash the part frequently with a strong decoction. I hope your brother editors throughout the country will give this a place in their gazettes. I am your friend, C.—W.—
Mr. Monroe, Editor of the Patriot.

CANCERS.

There was published some time since an account of a cure of a cancer by the use of a decoction from the plant called "evergreen." The description of it was not so minute and clear as to be understood by many persons, particularly, as there are several kinds of evergreen. If any person who is satisfied with the efficacy of the plant will give a circumstantial description of it, so that it may not be mistaken, we are satisfied the cause of humanity will be greatly promoted, as the editor of the Patriot has been written to frequently on the subject, from various parts of the country.— Editors will please give this notice an insertion, that information may be obtained so highly important to those afflicted with this most calamitous disorder. The editor has letters which state some afflictive cases which will terminate in death unless "a healing balm" is speedily administered.— And from what has been published, says one of the writers, "I trust it is to be found in this herb, which may have been sent by the great author of all good for the benefit of an unhappy and distressed race." [Ibid.

From the National Register.

BLAND'S REPORT CONCERNING CHILE.
The readers of the National Register have already been furnished with the reports of Mr. Rodney and Mr. Graham, relative to the actual situation of Buenos Ayres and the United and Independent Provinces of La Plata. Mr. Bland has also made an official statement respecting the same provinces, together with a report concerning Chile and his mission thither, which the President communicated to Congress on the 15th instant.

We have not been enabled, this week, to introduce into our pages either of these latter documents in whole or in part: but a friend, who has read with attention the report concerning Chile, has favored us with an accurate abstract of its contents, which we have now the pleasure of laying before our numerous patrons.

Mr. Bland, it will be recollected, was, in pursuance of instructions from the President, left by his colleagues, Mr. Rodney and Mr. Graham, at Buenos Ayres; whence on the 15th of April, 1818, he departed for Chile, and on the 26th of the same month arrived at Mendoza, on the eastern side of the Andes, having travelled, by the way of the post-road a distance of about 900 miles.
He left Mendoza on the 29th of April, and, crossing the Andes, reached Santiago de Chile on the 5th of May: the whole route being, perhaps, about 1200 miles. At this latter place Mr. Bland presented himself to Don Antonio Jose Irisarri, secretary of state, through whom he obtained an interview with Don Bernardo O'Higgins, the supreme director of Chile. He was received with much cordiality by the director with whom he had at different times, very interesting conversations, touching the present and future probable condition of Chile and the friendly sentiments which the United States entertained towards that country.

In the several interviews which Mr.
Bland had with the supreme director, he represented to him the good disposition which the government of the United States cherished towards the independent authorities of Chile and the course to which they were engaged: the sympathy which the free citizens of North America felt for the sufferings of those who were contending for liberty and emancipation from the yoke of Old Spain in the southern part of the American continent; and portrayed to him the benefits to be derived from the establishment of the representative system by the immediate formation of a Congress.

To these observations O'Higgins answered, that he was not insensible to the friendship of the United States; that it was his intention to institute a free government as soon as Chile was entirely freed of her enemies and sufficiently tranquilized for the purpose; but that the present moment was inopportune for the commencement of so great a work; that in times of public peril the presence of a congress had been found extremely pernicious: that Mexico had been lost by a congress; that the congress of Venezuela once lost that country; and that Buenos Ayres had been endangered by a congress; lately, indeed, he admitted, the latter had learnt to act more in concert and with greater propriety.

The supreme director having intimated that it was expected the United States would recognize the independence of Chile, and that the Chileans would grant special favors, in commerce, to the nation (and it would be gratifying if the United States should be the nation) first making such recognition; Mr. Bland replied that the single object of his mission was to make inquiry as to the true posture of affairs in Chile; that the United States would be thankful for any favors of the kind, but that they did not ask for them; that all they desired was to be put on a footing with other nations, and were willing to rely, as to any advantages in commerce and navigation, on the skill and industry of their merchants and seamen; that he had repaired to Santiago in order to procure, upon the spot, accurate knowledge of the country, of its institutions, and of its capacities in peace and in war; that the government of the United States only wished to see its way clearly, and would make no improper use of this information; and that any particulars communicated to him from authority might be considered as confidential, or otherwise, just as the supreme director might deem most proper.

The Supreme Director, O'Higgins, admitted the propriety of authentic information in order that the government of the United States might act intelligently with regard to South American affairs, and told Mr. Bland that he would cause an official statement to be made out respecting the condition and resources of Chile, and placed in his hands for that purpose; which promise the Supreme director complied with.
The statement makes a part of Mr.
Bland's report concerning Chile.

During the intercourse between Mr.
Bland and O'Higgins, the former explained to the latter the motives which actuated the President in the seizure of Amelia Island and in driving the banditti from Galvezton, and told him that the freebooters who had been forced from those places were not the only armed vessels whose officers and crews had interrupted the lawful commerce of the United States, for that some of the privateers cruising under regular Patriot commissions had committed depredations upon their trade; that the U. States would, at all hazards, defend the fair traffic of their citizens; and that they would do so, even against the Chileans, however painful it might be to crush in the germ a growing intimacy between the two people, and which promised to be in the sequel fruitful of benefit to them both.

O'Higgins did not even know where Amelia Island and Galvezton were situated, until Mr. Bland explained the positions to him. He decidedly approved of the conduct of the President in driving of the pirates from thence, inasmuch as it tended to preserve the character of the Patriot cause from imputations of an injurious nature; he had heard of outrages committed by private armed vessels sailing under some of the independent flags of S.
America; but that whatever might have been the behavior of the vessels acting under commissions from other states, no charge of the kind could justly be brought against the Chileans; that, in fact, with the exception of some fishing boats, it was not, until very lately that the government of Chile had any vessels of war under its control; and that he had taken great care by giving proper instructions, and by placing suitable superintending officers on board, to prevent any departure from the rules of naval warfare prescribed by the law of nations.

In one of the conversations which took place, Mr. Bland told the Supreme director that, when he was at Rio Janeiro, (where it will be recollected the commissioners touched, on their way to Buenos Ayres,) he had learnt, through Mr. Sumter, the minister of the United States, from the Spanish minister resident there, that Great Britain had been induced to take an active part in favor of Old Spain, and had influenced the Allied Sovereigns of Europe to interpose for the adjustment of differences between her and her colonies; and that the plan of adjustment was to be something like that which had been formerly rejected by the Cortes, and might be found in a work that had been published in England entitled, "An Outline of the Revolution in Spanish America."

is of Chile and the cause to which they were engaged; the sympathy which the free citizens of North America felt for the sufferings of those who were contending for liberty and emancipation from the yoke of Spain in the southern part of the American continent; and portrayed to him the benefits to be derived from the establishment of the representative system by the immediate formation of a Congress.

To these observations O'Higgins answered, that he was not insensible to the friendship of the United States; that it was his intention to institute a free government as soon as Chile was entirely freed of her enemies and sufficiently tranquilized for the purpose; but that the present moment was inauspicious for the commencement of so great a work; that in times of public peril, the presence of a congress had been found extremely pernicious; that Mexico had been lost by a congress; that the congress of Venezuela once lost that country; and that Buenos Ayres had been endangered by a congress; lately, indeed, he admitted, the latter had learnt to act more in concert and with greater propriety.

The supreme director having intimated that it was expected the United States would recognize the independence of Chile, and that the Chileans would grant special favors, in commerce, to the nation (and it would be gratifying if the United States should be the nation) first making such recognition; Mr. Bland replied that the single object of his mission was to make inquiry as to the true posture of affairs in Chile; that the United States would be thankful for any favors of the kind; but that they did not ask for them; that all they desired was to be put on a footing with other nations, and were willing to rely, as to any advantages in commerce and navigation, on the skill and industry of their merchants and seamen; that he had repaired to Santiago in order to procure, upon the spot, accurate knowledge of the country, of its institutions, and of its capacities in peace and in war; that the government of the United States only wished to see its way clearly, and would make no improper use of this information; and that any particulars communicated to him from authority might be considered as confidential, or otherwise, just as the supreme director might deem most proper.

A Card.

THE partnership of Doctors Thornton & Brown having been dissolved by the death of the senior partner, the survivor deems it respectful to the friends of the late firm to solicit a continuance of their patronage.

To the surgical department of his profession he has for several years devoted considerable attention, and flatters himself that his assiduity has enabled him to render the same services to surgical patients, which they have been accustomed to receive from his late partner.

Of the medical department, which has been almost entirely allotted to himself, he deems it unnecessary to say more than that he will be happy to receive the commands of his friends as heretofore, and will endeavor to justify their confidence by all the means in his power. He continues to occupy his former office in the front room of Doctor Thornton's late dwelling house, on King street. His own dwelling house is on St. Asaph street, between Prince and Duke streets.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Potomac creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, of which are attached six and bearing fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided into lots. This estate is level and beautifully situated; very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania. I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity.

A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1,200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole; it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1,000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peaches, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in corn, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Potomac Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting Creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomas Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence. The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house with a kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable.

The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—It would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, Esq. or

Laws of the District of Columbia.

In the press, and will shortly be published, By DAVIS & FORCE, IN THE CITY OF WASHINGTON, "A COMPLETE CODE OF LAWS FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA."

With a copious Index, prepared and reported by the Hon. chief Justice CHASE, to the congress of the United States, for their sanction; agreeably to the provisions of the act of the 29th April, 1816, entitled "an act authorizing the judges of the circuit court and the attorney for the District of Columbia, to prepare a code of jurisprudence for the said District."

The laws by which this District is now governed, can only be found by a reference to the numerous volumes containing those of the United States, of the states of Virginia and Maryland, and of England;—therefore the acquisition of this code (which will comprise the whole in one volume), must be considered as of the first importance, by all magistrates, gentlemen of the bar, and citizens in general, who have, heretofore, experienced the necessity of a work of this description.

Gentlemen who wish to be supplied, will please to leave their names at this office.

To the Public.

AN unusual sensibility has been excited in the minds of our countrymen by the copper plate engraving of the Declaration of Independence recently published, accompanied by fac similes of the signatures of those illustrious patriots who framed the document by which our independence was announced to the world. We feel, while we dwell on those signatures, as if we were ushered into the immediate presence of characters so exalted, and we seem for a time to participate in all the emotion which they felt on the approach of so awful a crisis—Hostile armies, desolate fields, towns and cities in conflagration—carnage and death in its most frightful forms appeared in prophetic vision on the one hand, and more than all, the complicated horrors, ignominy and slavery were presented for their acceptance on the other; they deliberated, they paused, they trembled, and at last solemnly appealing to the God of battles, they resolved that the United States were and ought to be free, sovereign and independent. These illustrious patriots, with five solitary exceptions, have now mingled with the common mould—they survive only in their country's glory and in the recollection of a grateful people. But it would be consoling to the present generation, separated as they now are from those patriots, by the intervention of the tomb, to become more intimately acquainted with their revolutionary benefactors. We love to dwell on the features of such men, snatched by the pencil from the oblivion of the grave, and emulate the primeval feats of their biography. Impressed with these ideas, the subscriber proposes, if suitable encouragement is given, to publish the lives of those patriots in numbers, until the whole is completed. The work will be executed in a style not inferior to any European productions, and the portraits by masters of acknowledged merit. The biography will be written by Paul Allen, Esq. whose intimacy with the several signers, whose familiarity with the privations and hardships they had to undergo, and whose well known talents will be sufficient to ensure the patronage of an enlightened people. In the execution of this work, all that the publisher dares to promise is, that he will endeavor to deserve the confidence of his countrymen, and that no exertion on his part will be wanting to prevent an abuse of that confidence. He ventures to solicit the assistance of those gentlemen in possession of authentic facts and anecdotes, by communicating the intelligence that will serve to illustrate the characters and to enrich the biography of those founders of the American Republic.—Those who are in possession of their portraits would enlarge the obligation by a loan of the same.

A prospectus with the terms will be given in a few days.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on or about the first of September last, a mulatto girl named Sally, about fifteen or sixteen years of age, long bushy hair, rather thin visage, clothing not recollected, formerly the property of Mr. John M. Ivor of this place. Whoever will apprehend said slave and deliver her to me, or give information to Mr. H. Claggett, at the Washington Tavern, or I get her, shall receive the above reward.

JOHN L. ALFORD. December 4

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the 27th of November last, a brick Mulatto Man, named SAM BLASON, about 20 years old, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, has a small scar on one of his temples, and a very uncommon thick upper lip, which is so remarkable that he may easily be known by it. He had on a dark green cloth great coat, with a large single cape, a fur hat half worn. I bought him of Mr. Charles I. Love, who lives near Alexandria, and who has his mother and other relations, where no doubt he has been since he went off, and I expect makes Alexandria his chief place of abode, as he is fond of the town, and has a very large acquaintance in it. I have heard that he was seen there about two weeks ago, walking in the day time without any caution nearly opposite the poor house. I will give the above reward for the delivery of said boy to me 3 miles from the 27th mile stone, on the Little River Turnpike road, or twelve dollars for lodging him in any jail so that I get him again. All persons are cautioned from harboring or carrying said fellow off, as the law will be enforced in either case.

Constables Look Out.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near the Falls Church, Fairfax county, Virginia, on the 10th inst, a negro man named Henry Tuxen, about 23 or 24 years of age, a thick, well set fellow, about 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, very black, full face, has a large mouth and thick lips; he has lost one front tooth from his upper jaw, and is slow in speech. He had on when he left home a short grey cloth coat, black cloth pantaloons, much worn, an old drab cloth great coat, and an old fur hat, with a black scarf around it. He is a good cook, and is fond of being in a kitchen. He is a smart, sensible fellow, and may change his clothes. He formerly belonged to Richard Washington, deceased, and was his waiter. He has a mother and other relations living at Mr. John Washington's, Jefferson county, Va. and also at Mount Vernon, and in Alexandria. In all probability he may be endeavoring to get to some of the northern states.

If said fellow is taken and secured in jail, so that I get him again, 100 miles from home, I will give 100 dollars, if 50 miles, 50 dollars, and if 25 miles, or any shorter distance, 30 dollars.
